People of England as well as Those of Jamaica Resent his Discourtesy to Americans

London, Jan. 22 .- The British government and the entire nation have shown the strongest disapproval of Governor Swettenham's action in causing the withdrawal of the American parines from Kingston.

The government is now trying to get an official statement or explanation from Governor Swettenham setting forth why he so bluntly and discourteously declined to receive American aid when it was tendered by Admiral

smor Swettenham will be determined by the character of explanation received from him regarding his course

The government officials are strong n this disapproval of the manner in which he acted in this matter, as they considered the tender of the offices of J. D. Robertson. the American government as a very highly honored kindness and one wor- H. A. Ford. thy of being treated in a most court-
